What is Life?

Under the cover of the stars,
Under the cover of the sun,
Fermented in Eternity,
There is one precious moment called Life.

We Are Infants . . .

Only Beginning . . .

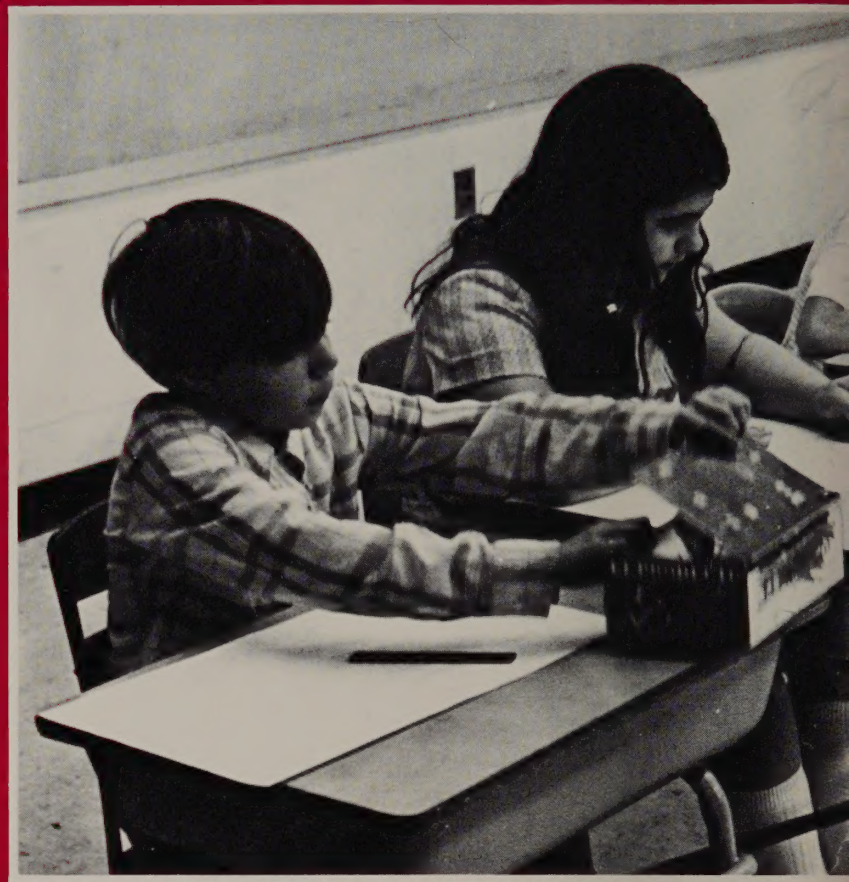

. . . to Discover

There is so much to learn,
So much to experience —
It is here that we begin.

We Are Growing . . .

. . . Developing
Our Minds

Working,
Playing,
Sharing
With Others

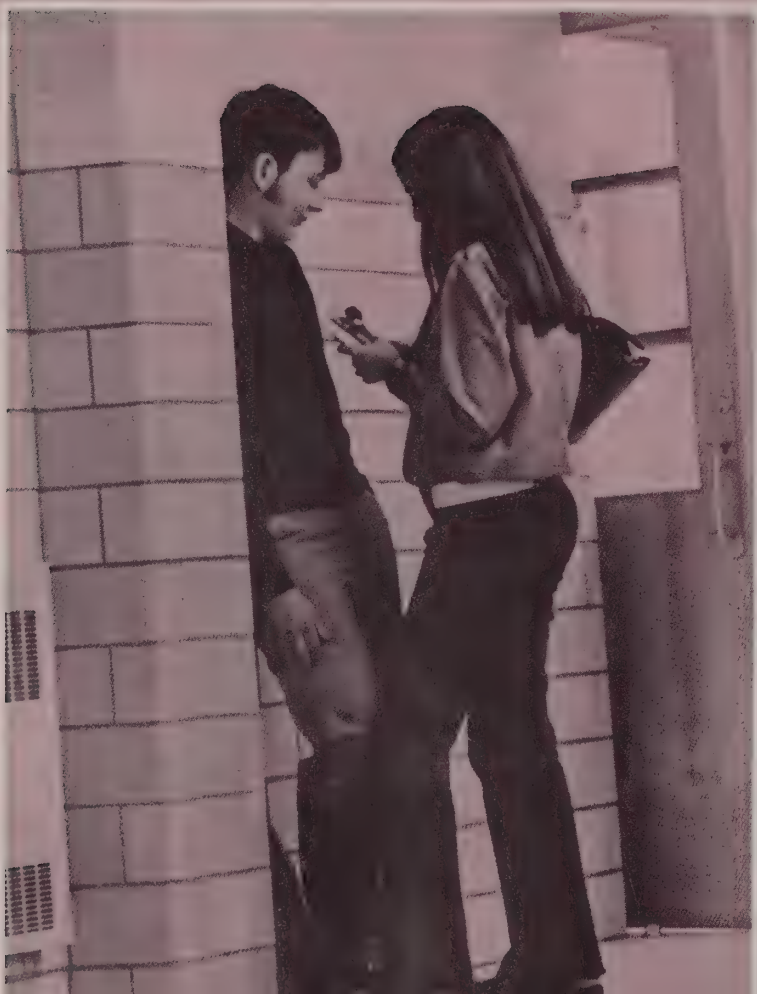

We Are Young Men and Women . . .

. . . Learning to Love

There is nothing
Half so sweet in Life
As love's young dream.

Learning to Give of Ourselves

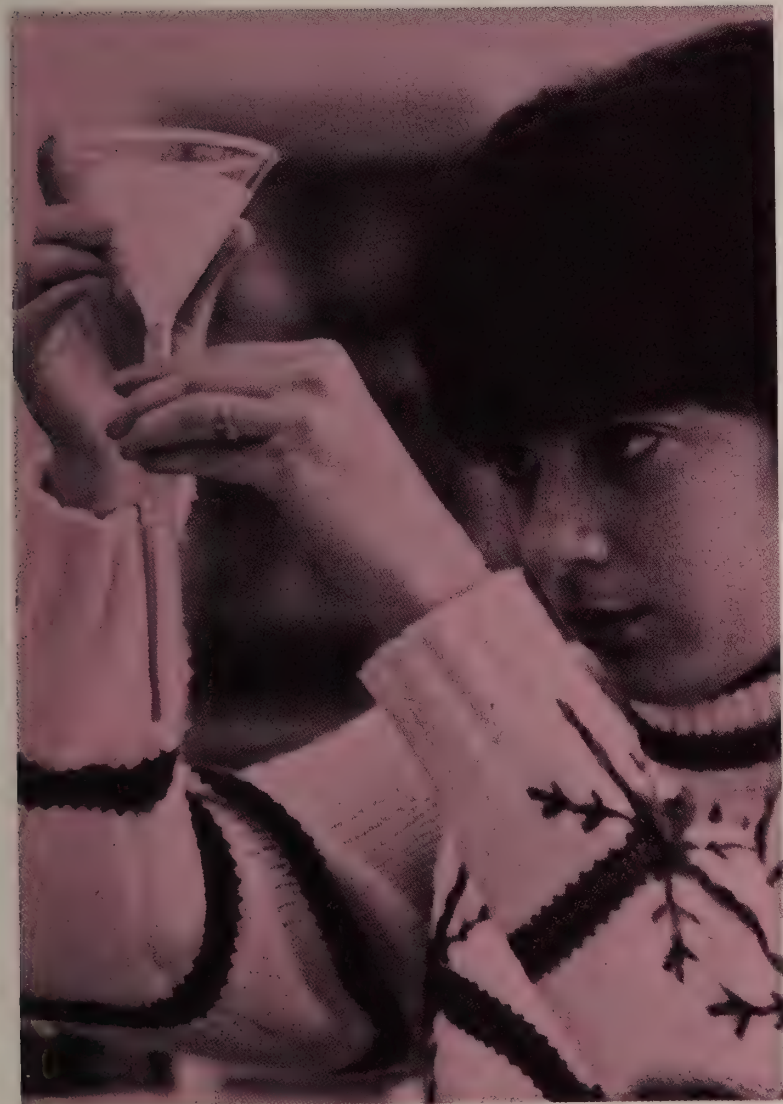

Architects of the Future . . .

Engineers of Peace

Builders of a Better World . . .

The world is ours.
We can be apathetic,
not get involved —
but then we must be prepared to watch the country die.
Or, we can make a mark in history,
to have the courage to pursue, to strive, to improve the world,
to seek the best of all worlds.
The decision is ours.

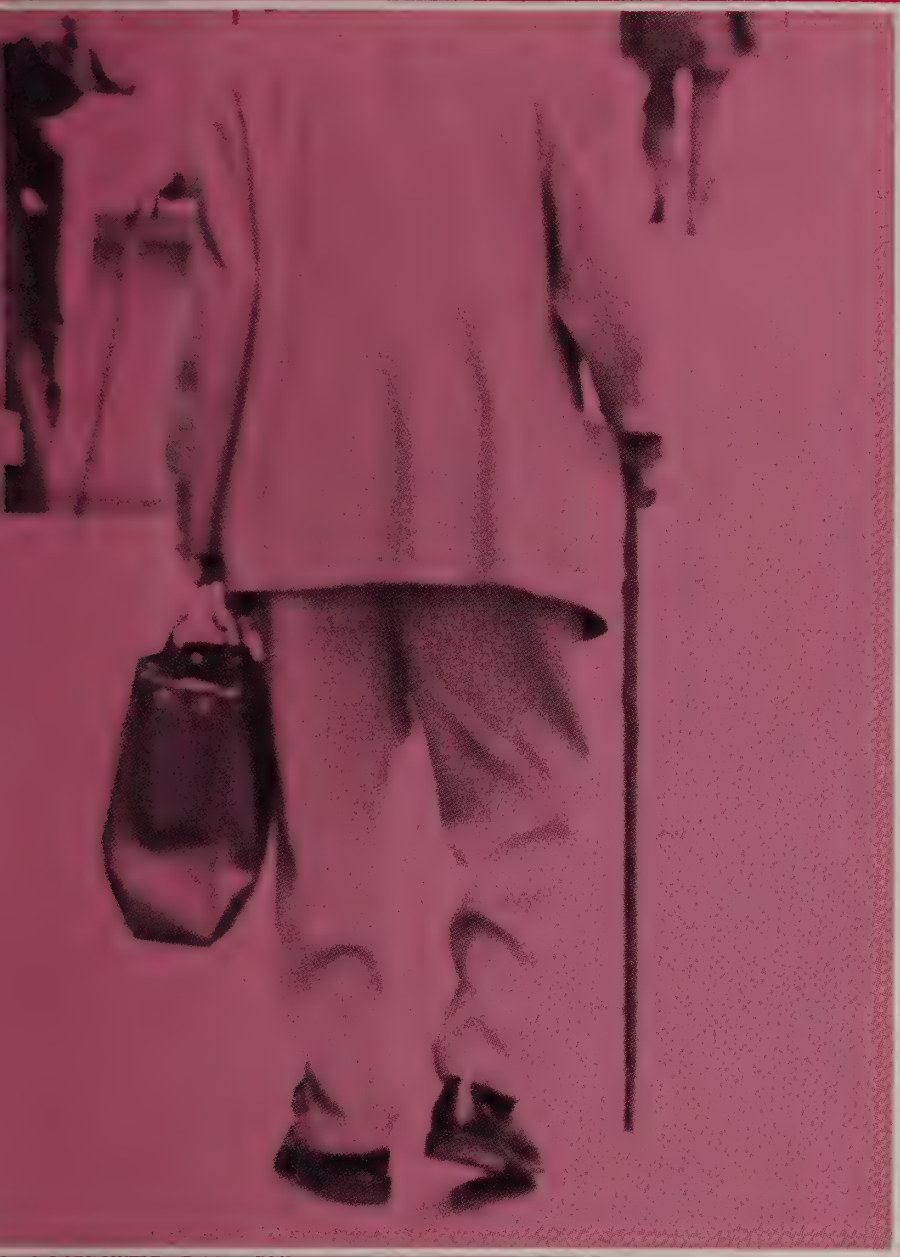

Life Is Fullfillment . . .

The woods are lovely, dark, and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

1972 Lion Dedication

Mr. Charles T. Patullo

We Will Always Remember . . .

How can we put into words
 what Chick Patullo meant to us? He was not merely a guidance counselor, not merely a football coach.
 Mr. Patullo was a warm light that shone through the darkest days.
 He was joy, hope, encouragement, and love. His laughter brightened the halls of Ludlow High School.
 His encouraging smile helped many of us weather very difficult times.
 Before him we could laugh,
 we could cry,
 we could vent all of our emotions, for he would always lend his ear and his heart to all who approached him.

Now he is gone,
 but we are all richer people for having known him. He has touched all of us in his own special way, and he has left us all with so very much.

Administration Makes Changes in It's Policy

The LHS Administration has made several important policy decisions which include a three day suspension instead of the previous five day suspension, the opportunity to make up work missed during a suspension, and the formation of a Faculty Administration Liason Committee as a communications channel between the faculty and the administration. Mr. John Hurley, Principal, realizes that teachers and students should have some say in policy and decision making which will directly affect the faculty and student body.

The Guidance Department Feels

The Guidance Department began the year by moving into new, more spacious quarters, consisting of a main office, seven guidance suites, and a conference room.

One of the most important objectives of the department was preparing seniors for life after graduation. A Career Day was held on April fourth and fifth in which experts in various fields came to the school to talk to seniors about occupations in which the students expressed an interest. A Job Fair was also held in which area employers sent placement personnel to LHS to interview seniors. As a result of this practice, seniors experienced what it is like to be interviewed for a job.

Also, two senior bulletins were distributed telling the seniors when certain college representatives were to visit the school and, in addition, gave information on how to request college applications and apply for scholarships. An innovative practice of group counseling was introduced this year in which six or seven students met in the guidance conference room to carry on "rap sessions" about the school in general.

The guidance staff also served in a research capacity to aid other departments in establishing new courses. In November tragedy struck our school with the death of Mr. Charles Patullo. The entire school was grieved by the passing of Mr. Patullo.

English Department Introduces Mini Courses

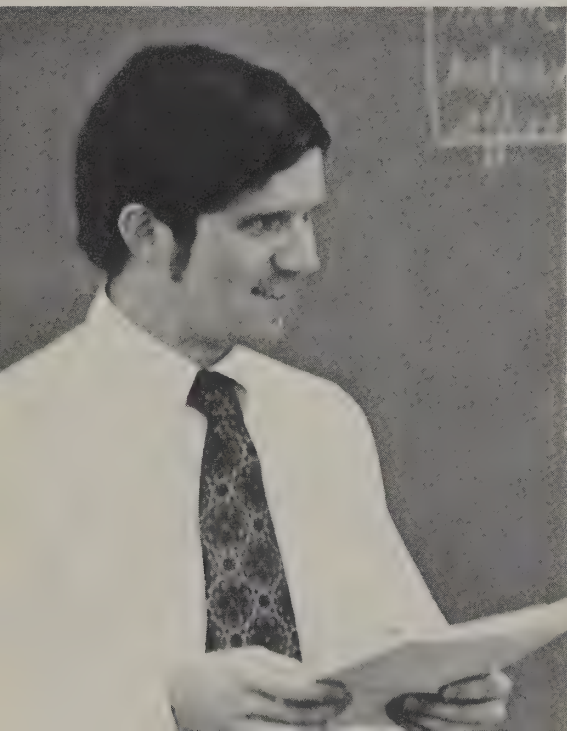

Change has come to the traditional format of Senior English classes with the introduction of four mini courses, one each term. The four mini courses were A Survey of English Literature, The British Novel, World Drama, and Expository Writing and Speech. This mini course format allows each teacher to teach the subject matter in which he or she has the most expertise and finds the most enjoyment. This innovation has also provided the students with a better opportunity to improve their knowledge of English as well as world literature. Next year, a greater number of mini courses will be offered to both juniors and seniors.

Math Department Introduces Full Year Calculus

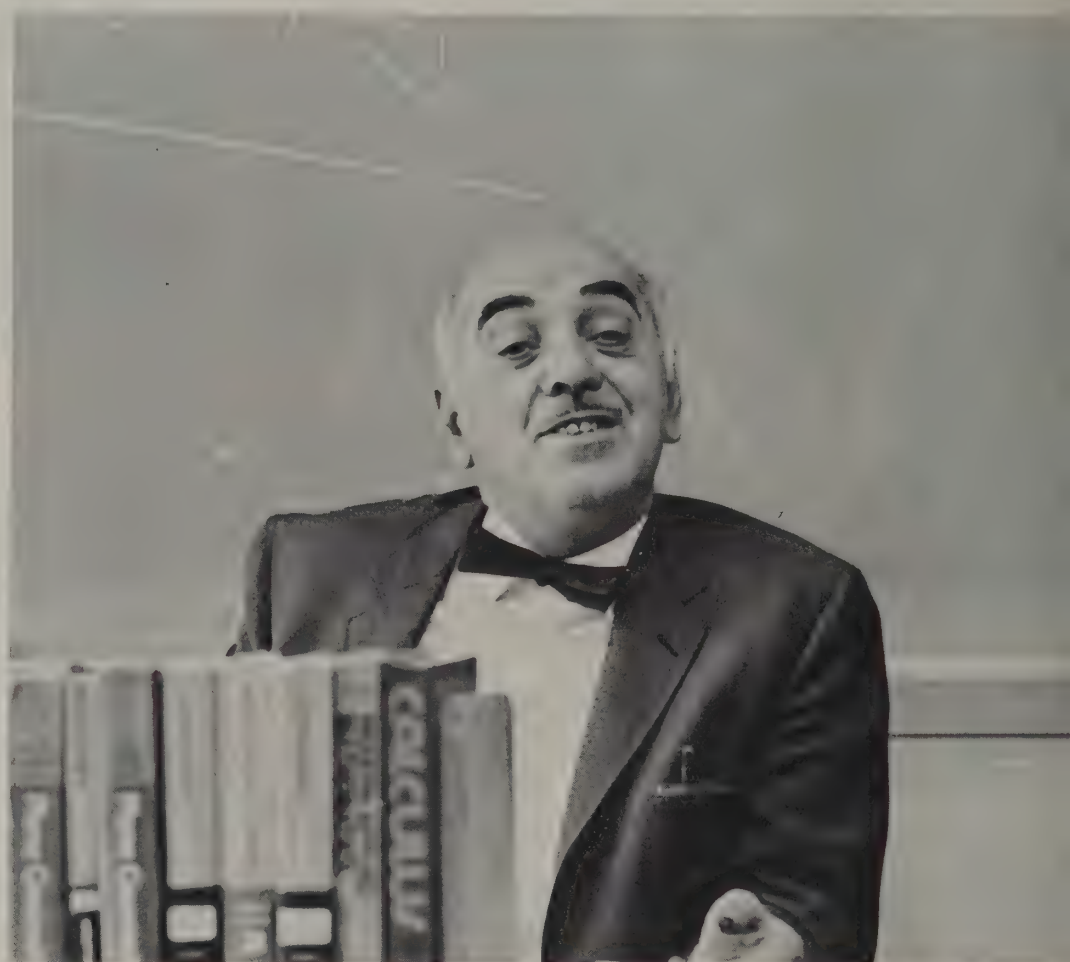

A full year calculus course, taught by Mr. Daniel Lynes and Mr. Raymond Yando, culminated a five year program designed to make available in high school a more intense study of calculus in the senior year.

The department feels that this innovation will greatly benefit seniors in future college math.

Other math courses offered range from Algebra and Geometry to more advanced courses such as Algebra II, Trigonometry, and Analytical Geometry.

Social Studies Department Heads Toward "New Social Studies"

The "New Social Studies" is a practice where classroom discussion emanates from the students and not the teacher. This format results in a more student orientated class in which the thoughts of the students are of primary importance.

A Psychology-Sociology course was instituted this year and will be continued next year. A new course entitled The Non-Western World, exploring such nations as China, Japan, Russia, Africa, India, and The Middle East will be introduced next year.

Science Department Prepares for Move

The Science Department offers a progression of courses ranging from general science in the freshman year to Biology I in the sophomore year, chemistry in the junior year, and either physics or Biology II in the senior year. The department has devoted much time in planning next year's move into the new wing. Next year, college preparatory freshmen will be allowed to elect an all-new, lab — orientated, Introductory Physical Science course. In addition, Biology I will be taught in quarter courses, each concentrating on a distinct area of study. Plans are being formulated to correlate curriculum with that of the Junior High, so that there will be a smooth continuation of curriculum from the Junior to the Senior High School.

Language Department Strives for Relevance

The Language Department is in a state of transition taking the form of work on programs to update and make more relevant the offerings of the department.

It is hoped that new courses can be added to the curriculum in order to reach these goals.

The addition of German and, within the next few years Portuguese, are definately steps toward making the language curriculum more appealing to the student body.

Commercial Department Develops

The Commercial Department prepares students for business occupations with courses in typing, filing, stenography, bookkeeping, business machines, and office practices.

Also, the department offers a personal typing course to the non-business orientated students, which is expected to be an invaluable asset to college bound students.

Home Economics Department

The Home Economics Department offers four practical courses. The Foods course instructs students in the wise purchasing and preparation of food with emphasis on those of the basic, everyday variety. The Home Furnishing course deals with the proper arrangement of furniture in the home. The Child Development course teaches students to care for children as they develop and mature. The Clothing course deals with the designing and making of fashions stressing the basic skills of crocheting, knitting, and sewing. On May fifth the department held its annual fashion show entitled "Sail into Spring" under the direction of Mrs. Miriam Patullo and Mrs. Janice Partyka. Students from both the morning and afternoon session clothing classes modeled the fashions they had made. Miss Patricia Haluch's foods classes provided the refreshments served at the show.

Mr. Arthur Serra, Athletic Director.

The Physical Education Department carried on in its efforts to improve the physical condition of the students and teach the basic skills of both individual and team sports. The department stressed such skills as archery, soccer, basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, wrestling, track, and golf.

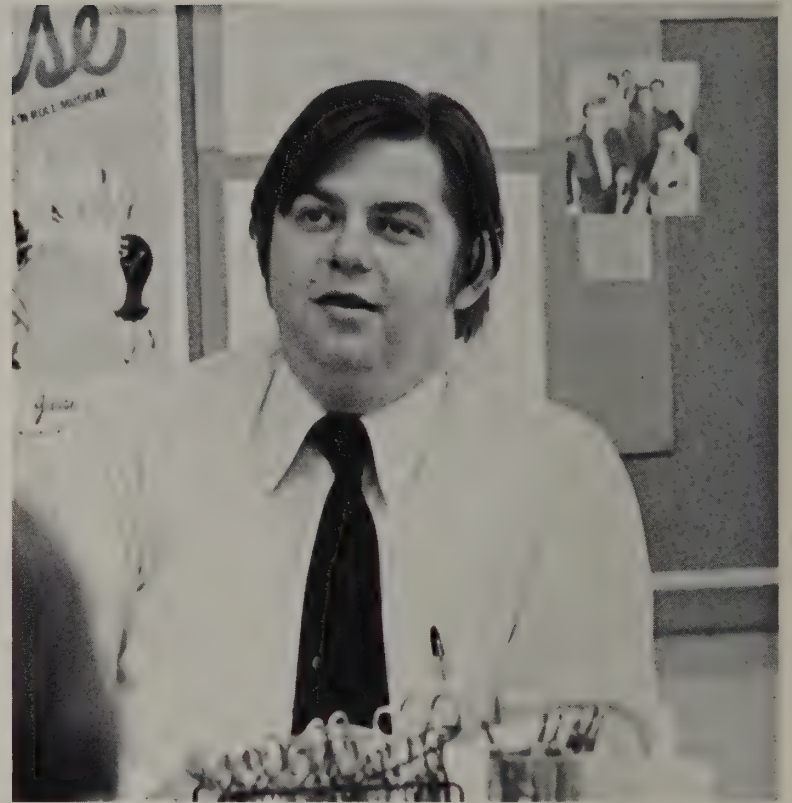

Mr. Joseph Szlosek

Miss Helen Kudlic

Fine Arts Department

Throughout the year the Art Department, under the competent direction of Mr. Bernard Burns explored the areas of sculpture, ceramics, murals, water color painting, and pen and ink drawings. Instruction in these skills was accompanied by lessons in art history and an assignment in which each student was required to write a thesis on a particular artist. The Eastfield Mall requested the Art Department to submit Easter decorations which might be selected to adorn the complex. Weeks later scores of brightly colored Easter eggs were hung from the ceilings throughout the Mall. Students in the department designed and constructed the scenery and props which made the production of the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" possible. Selected seniors were asked to create a design for a medallion which might be accepted for the Ludlow Bicentennial in 1974.

Has Productive Year

Three vocal groups — the Chorale, Concert Choir, and Girl's Chorus — through the untiring effort and dedication of Mr. Gregory Wrinn, showed excellence in their performance at the Western Mass. Music Festival where the judges gave each of the 3 groups the highest composite marks which were possible. The Concert Choir was one of three groups in the state to be invited to perform at the State Convention, and also received an invitation to perform at the All-Eastern Convention.

The Ludlow High School Marching and Concert Band under the direction of Royce Layman, as in the case of the vocal groups, was given the highest possible composite mark in the Western Mass. Music Festival. As part of an exchange program, the LHS band went to Cheshire High School in Connecticut to give a concert. Last year, the Cheshire band performed in Ludlow. Also, the band held its annual Christmas and Spring concerts.

Mr. Gregory Wrinn, Choral Music, Department Chairman.

Mr. Royce Layman, Instrumental Music.

Mechanical Arts Department Develops Skills

The Mechanical Arts Department provides students with an understanding of shop procedures by providing instruction in mechanical drawing, shop math, wood shop, and metal shop.

Next year, it is planned that courses such as Household Wiring, Construction, Electronics Shop, Mechanical Drawing III, and Shop Math II will be initiated.

Also, it is hoped that a Model Club, a Radio Club, and a Mechanical Drawing Club will be formed as extracurricular activities.

SENIORS

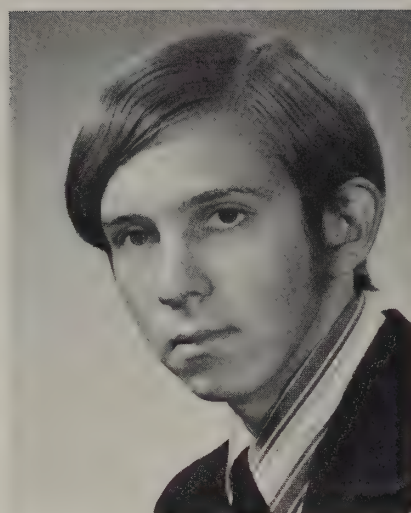

The Class of 1972 Looks

Four years have run their course — years filled with books and homework, fire drills and pep rallies, assemblies and Hi-Y initiations.
 But things didn't always run smoothly
 during this span of time;
 throughout all four years, there existed the ever-present problem of double sessions and the struggle for Senior privileges and a prom outside of school.
 But while all of this belongs to the past, we belong to the future, a future that offers vast opportunities for growth and time for reminiscing about Senior year . . .

Fall — new courses and teachers, college applicatons, the Booster Dance Dance, Mula, the Thanksgiving Day nor' easter . . .

Senior Show time — togetherness, chorus rehearsals, headaches, Mr. Andreis, the Belchertown performance, Steve Fioravanti and Diane Neill, no snow sculpture, the stage crew . . .

Senior Week — no more classes,
 the Senior Banquet, Class Night, graduation . . .

In Memory of Jody

Death is always tragic but, especially so when it strikes in the spring of a young, blossoming life and steals that life which enriches so many others.
Death, however, cannot steal those memories which remind us of that life.

It is these memories which permit us to treasure that soul forever.

Jody Uskovich's death was a tremendous loss both to her family and friends.

The emotion and tears cannot be expressed in words but, perhaps, that is just as well, for, all of us who loved her need not talk about her to feel inside of us
the warmness and love of Jody, then and now.

Johanna "Jody" Uskovich
1954-1971

The wipers squeak despite the rain,
Afternoon sun obscured by cloud,
It's a bummer of a day,
But sunshine's in the death seat.
Her spirit is a freak breeze from which Warmth in others is born.
She could make our day worth living;
Damn, why did it end in storm?
To fit, one has to give
And to do like your brother.
She followed and gave good moments to save,
But fate, the fiend did her in;
Oh no, I feel so bad now Jody's gone.
She took a part of my life
The smile that overcomes my strife is gone
My friends, we, but one big family
You know death strikes a family hard,
Now we've lost our sister Jody
All we can hope is to join her peacefully.

SENIOR WEEK

Class Night Begins Commencement Week

The Class Night exercise was attended by the parents and friends of the graduates; it included the reading of the Class History, the Class Poem, and the Class Night Oration, as well as the announcement of the Class gift. Awards and scholarships were also presented, and at the close of the ceremony the Class Song, DAY IS DONE, was sung by the graduates.

Senior Banquet — A Last Revel

The Senior Class, along with the faculty and administration of LHS held its last affair, the Senior Banquet, at the Polish-American Citizens' Club on the evening of June 5. After a delicious meal served by the Garden Grove Caterers, the Seniors spent the remainder of the evening dancing to the music of The Twelfth of Never. Although it was with some sadness that the Seniors saw the banquet end, the memories of their last get-together will remain with them always.

Senior Assembly — A Simple Hope . . .

On Tuesday, June 6,
the Class of 1972 was honored during the Senior Assembly.

Going along with the theme, "Remember the Good", the Seniors viewed a film of their

Senior Show and later listened to some taped comments made by their favorite teachers.

During the ceremonies
the class made the dedication of their yearbook to the late Coach "Chick" Patullo.

Also featured in the assembly was the report on the standing of the yearbook, and a speech
by Mr. Charles Bradshaw, the yearbook advisor.

Graduation of the Class of 1972 Arrives

Graduation day — a day we look to and dream of from the very first day we enter school.
When it arrives, however, we are very reluctant to let go of the years that graduation officially brings to a close.

And so it was on the evening of June 7th as the Class of 1972 held commencement exercises at the Municipal Auditorium in Springfield.

We entered to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance". Reverend Frederick Banas delivered the invocation,
the concert choir and band presented their rendition of "Onward Ye People".

Co-Valedictorian Carol Knapp gave the Valedictory Address, and Principal John Hurley presented awards.

Following this, Superintendent of Schools Hugh MacFarlane formally presented the class, and School Committee Chairman Robert Napolitan awarded diplomas.

John Nowak gave the President's Message;
the Alma Mater
and National Anthem were played, and the Reverend Helen Galazka delivered the benediction. The concert choir ended the proceedings with its beautiful presentation of "The Lord Bless You and Keep You".

The recessional —
we departed graduates,
no longer members of the student body of LHS.

And so we smiled,
and tried not to cry
as we said good-bye to that which had been life for the past four years.

To This Part of Our Lives . . .

To Our Friends . . .

... We Say Good-bye.

Our four years together are now over.
They have been years of laughter and tears, joys and sorrows. We have gone through it all — together.

But now this is where we say goodbye.
We say goodbye to friends, to teachers, and to life at LHS.

So many memories — certainly we'll always remember the Senior Show, Banquet, Class Night, Senior Assembly, and Graduation, but we'll also always remember the little things that touched us so much — very special moments that we'll always remember. Joining together to support our teams — sharing joy in victory, and sorrow in defeat, and always that overwhelming feeling of pride we had for them.
We'll probably never feel quite the same way again, for we will never pass this way again.

Others are taking our place — sitting at our desks, using our lockers, and walking through our halls.

Ludlow High School Band

The Ludlow High School Band accomplished many things this year. It combined the experience and knowledge of upperclassmen and energy and willingness of newcomers under the direction of Mr. Royce Layman, resulting in a very balanced and impressive musical group. Numerous undertakings were arranged and performed including seasonal and exchange concerts, field trips, and a performance at UMass. As is becoming a tradition of musical groups from Ludlow, the band received the highest overall ratings possible in the state music festival and made many favorable impressions on music personnel around the state and New England. The group attempted and was successful in learning and flawlessly performing many musical arrangements thought to be too difficult for high school and college groups. The band ended its year with its annual trip to Chicopee State Park.

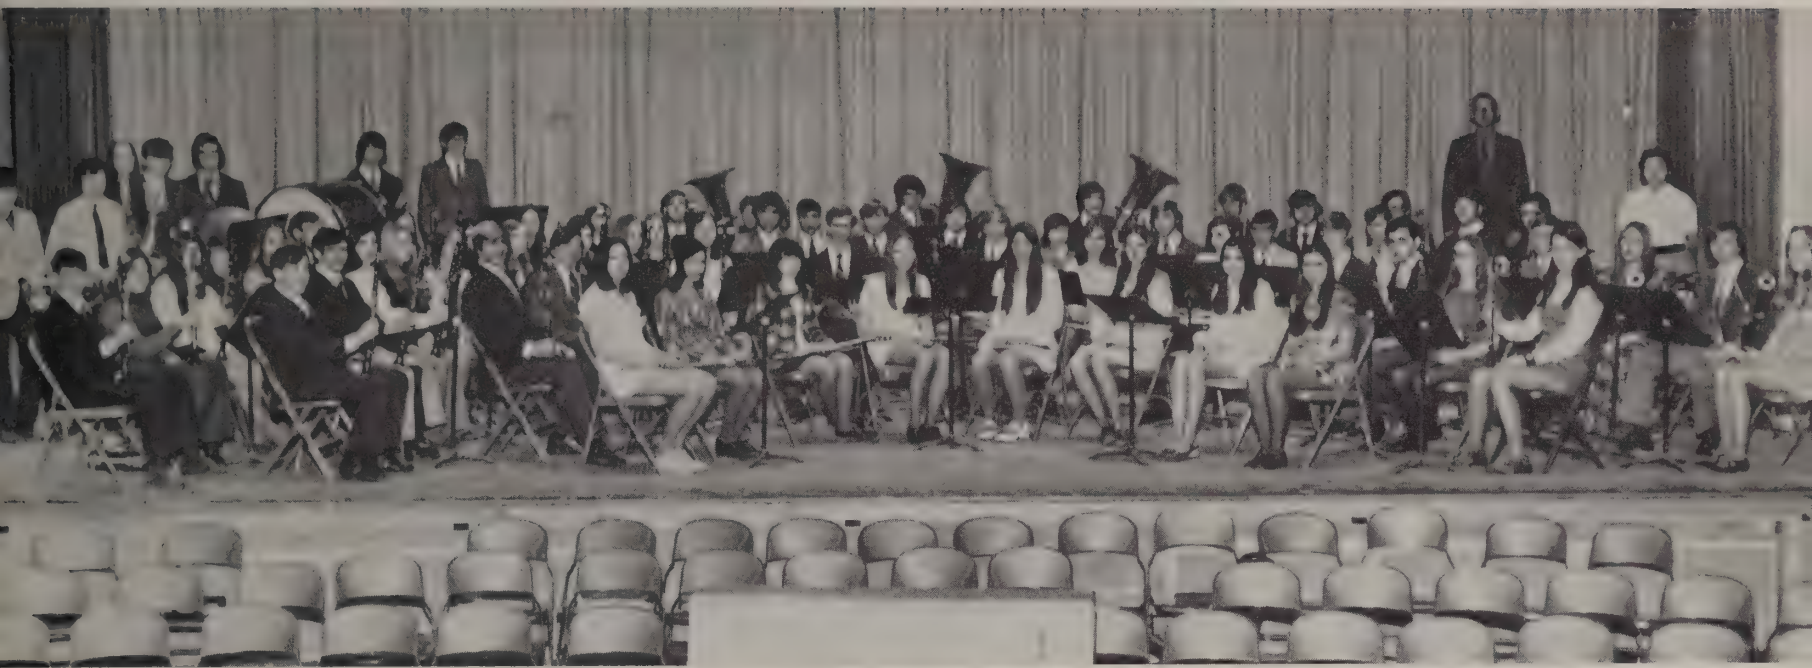

Band director, Mr. Royce Layman.

Choral Groups Enjoy Outstanding Year

As usual, the chorus members, and their director Mr. Gregory Wrinn, were kept very busy this year. Numerous competitive, as well as non-competitive concerts were performed by the various choruses. The Concert Choir and Chorale successfully performed in Brockton, Mass. receiving high ratings in everything they performed. The annual Christmas and Spring Concerts were performed with all the choruses — Chorale, Concert Choir, Girl's Chorus, and Freshman Chorus taking part. Through the many hard efforts of music directors, Mr. Gregory Wrinn and Mr. Royce Layman, a concert by the Vienna Choir was arranged to take place in the Ludlow High School Auditorium. "A first" for the town of Ludlow, the concert was a huge success and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. The year ended at graduation exercises with the Concert Choir singing, "Onward Ye Peoples" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You".

Chorus director, Mr. Gregory Wrinn.

Majorettes Perform With LHS Band

The majorettes of Ludlow High School regularly met each week to practice perfecting a variety of routines. These routines were displayed to the public while the majorettes marched with the LHS Band on Saturday morning or afternoon during football season. The captain of this year's squad was Jenice Amaral, who in the past attended a special camp so that she would further develop her ability to lead the girls. Although the majorettes were only busy through football season, they ended their year by marching, with great pride, in Ludlow's annual Memorial Day Parade.

Color Guard Work Under Handicap

Many organizations experienced difficulties this year, and the Ludlow High School Color Guard was no exception. With no uniforms available to them, the members of the Color Guard were forced to march wearing street clothes. This fact, however, did not dampen the girls' spirits as they marched with the band during half time at football games. The Color Guard should be applauded for their determination in representing Ludlow High.

Theater Arts Presents

The Theater Arts Club presented its performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace" on March 17 and 18. Many long hours of hard work and untiring effort were spent by the entire cast. Not only did the cast members work dilligently, but also, faculty advisor — Mrs. Suzanne Kelly, who gave up much of her spare time to give direction to the undertaking. The main theme of the play centered around two "sweet" old ladies who thought they were performing works of charity by poisoning lonely men who come to visit. After several comical encounters with the law and relatives, both spinsters were committed to an institution — Happydale. The group performed to a responsive audience who thoroughly enjoyed the entire play.

Underclassmen Display Talents

Pisthetaeros, Herecles, and Poseidon preparing for the feast.

Ancient Greek Comedy came to life on the stage of Ludlow High School this spring. Months of preparation and hard work by the director, Miss Constance McGovern, and members of the classes of '75 and '76 resulted in a superb production of "The Birds" by Aristophanes. The scenery was designed and built entirely by the students. Costumes were also the result of the student's creativity. Every effort was made to keep the play an authentic Greek classical production. The two leading characters in "The Birds" were in search of a perfect city and found their happiness in the simplicity of life with their winged friends. Jane Nunes, Jeanne Hopkins, Wayne Meher, and John Scheurich displayed their talents in the lead roles, and were ably supported by Cathie Miron, and Richard Patnode at the head of the rest of the fine cast.

JCL Has Busy Year

The members of the Junior Classical League were kept busy this year with a variety of activities. The Yale Repertory Theater was visited early in the school year, by many J.C.L. members, to see a performance of "Caligula". Later in the year, the annual "Classics Day" at Holy Cross was held, attended by a great number of J.C.L. members which has increased every year. Visitors came to Ludlow High School to lecture or perform for students and residents of Ludlow. Dr. Edward Phinney gave a lecture on "Women in Antiquity"; Dr. Nikki Scofopoulos presented a slide lecture about the excavation of an ancient Greek ship; and Dr. Peter Arnott performed a unique marionette show on "Oedipus Rex". A new function was instituted by the Junior Classical League — "All in the Family Night". This evening consisted of a spaghetti supper followed by entertainment by the Zumbies of Amherst College. The annual J.C.L.

Assembly, entitled "Crossroads", took place in May instead of April due to the trip to Italy. The year ended for the J.C.L. members at the Colonial Hilton Restaurant after a long, fun-filled day at Look Park. At the outing, the J.C.L. defeated Hampshire Regional High School in a softball game — with a little help from the umpire — Mr. Charles Bradshaw.

Junior Classical League

An enjoyable and thought-provoking assembly was presented by the JCL this year on May 10, 11, and 12. Entitled "Crossroads", the assembly was based on and portrayed a high school senior at one of the many important crossroads of life — graduation. It was at this time in life he felt outside pressures from his parents, friends, and the entire society as well as those from within himself. He knew there were many decisions to be made concerning his life — and this was the time to begin making those decisions. In many instances, he related his thoughts to people and events of another historical era — people such as the "beautiful" Cleopatra and the mighty Caesar and events such as the Trojan War. A brilliant performance was given by Dan Ouellette as the star of the show. A natural for the part, Dan spent many long hours writing and rehearsing his lines. The singing group, again this year, displayed its musical ability in performing the songs: "Simple Song of Freedom", "You've Got A Friend", and "Song For Judith". The JCL advisor, Mr. Charles Bradshaw, assisted by Miss Contance McGovern, did a tremendous job arranging and directing the entire show. This assembly provided everyone, especially the seniors, with many thoughts about their lives and their futures. In everyone's life there comes a time when he must make a decision as to which way he wants to go — which road to take.

Dan Ouellette takes a moment to think.

Trip to Rome Climaxes JCL Year

On April 14, many students, teachers, and residents of Ludlow left Ludlow High School's parking lot to spend ten days in Europe. Mr. Charles Bradshaw did an outstanding job in planning and organizing the entire trip. After leaving LaGuardia Airport in New York, the group had a six hour layover in Amsterdam, Holland, during which they enjoyed a tour of the city by boat. Having completed the tour, the plane was boarded and hours later landed in the "Eternal City" — Rome. There were many things to be seen and experienced during the ten short days in Italy. Sights such as the Colosseum, Roman Forum, St. Peter's Basilica, and Spanish Steps; and experiences such as riding in the fast moving buses or horse-drawn carriages, running in the rain, and trying to communicate with the people, will live in the minds of those who went. However, all good things eventually come to an end and the trip to Italy was no exception. For the ten days went by quickly and the group reluctantly boarded the plane for the long trip home.

EVENTS

Booster Day Starts Seniors Rolling

The Ludlow High School social season got into full swing on October 29th with the annual Booster Day Dance sponsored by the Class of 1972. A pep rally preceded the dance and then, in anticipation of the oncoming football game against Longmeadow, a Lancer's dummy was guillotined. Following the rally, the large crowd was entertained with music by the Armegeddon as well as a psychedelic light show.

Hi-Y Show Spotlights on Miss Victory

The Ludlow Hi-Y Organization presented the "Hi-Y Hall of Fame" on the evening of November 19th.

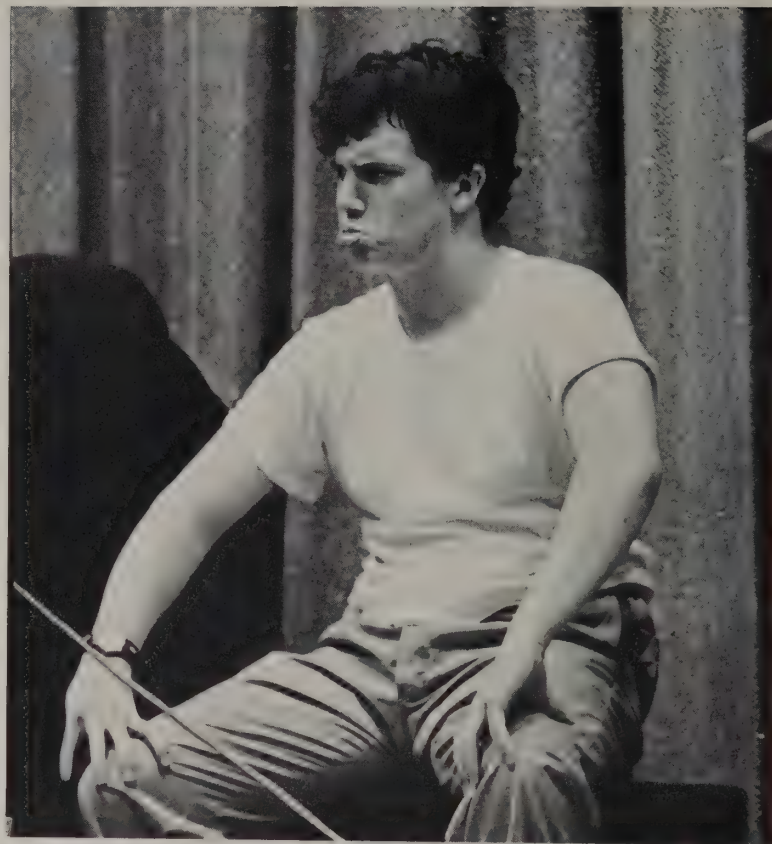

John Nowak and Sarmento Silva hosted the many talent acts and comedy skits.

First prize for the best talent act went to "Solid Ground".

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the eleven Miss Victory candidates and the crowning of Miss Victory.

This honor went to Debbie Casagrande, who represented the football team.

Her court included Sue Duquette, Donna Belliveau, and Toni Kowalski.

Juniors Present "Dante's Inferno"

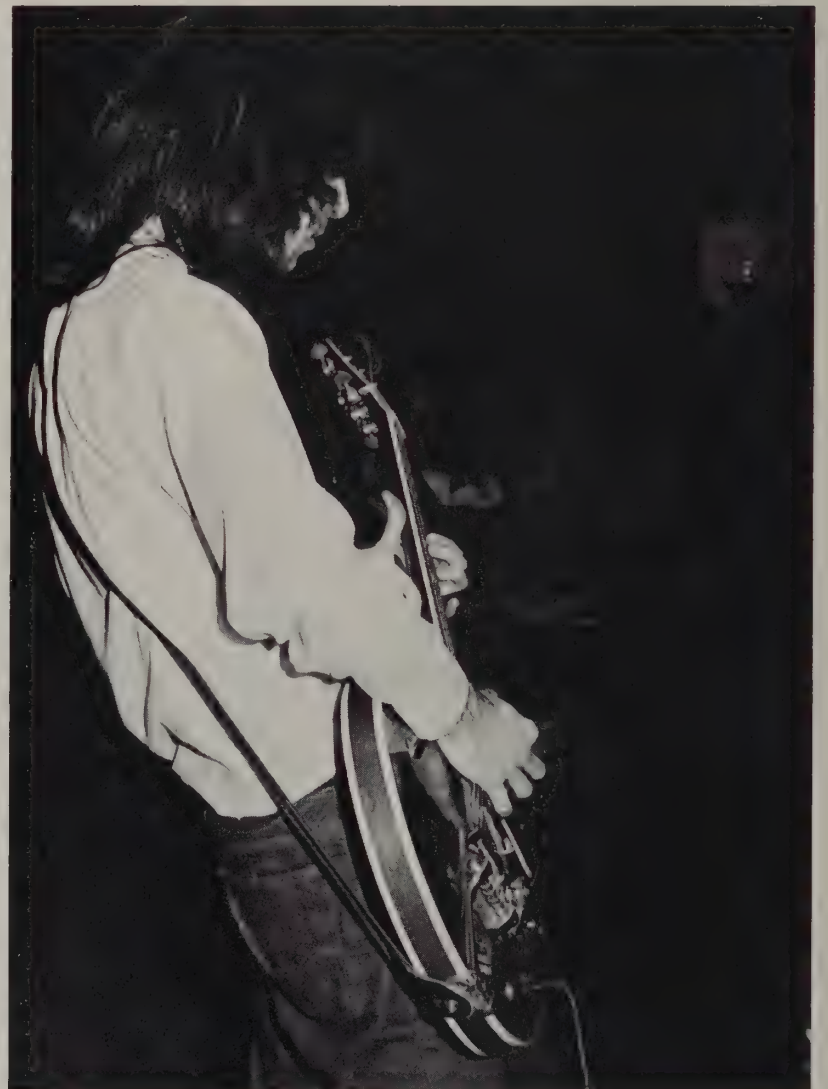

The Junior Class ended the year 1971 with its unique presentation of "Dante's Inferno." The Juniors, Led by general chairman Elaine Plata, transformed the gym into a gloomy underworld of devils and sinners.

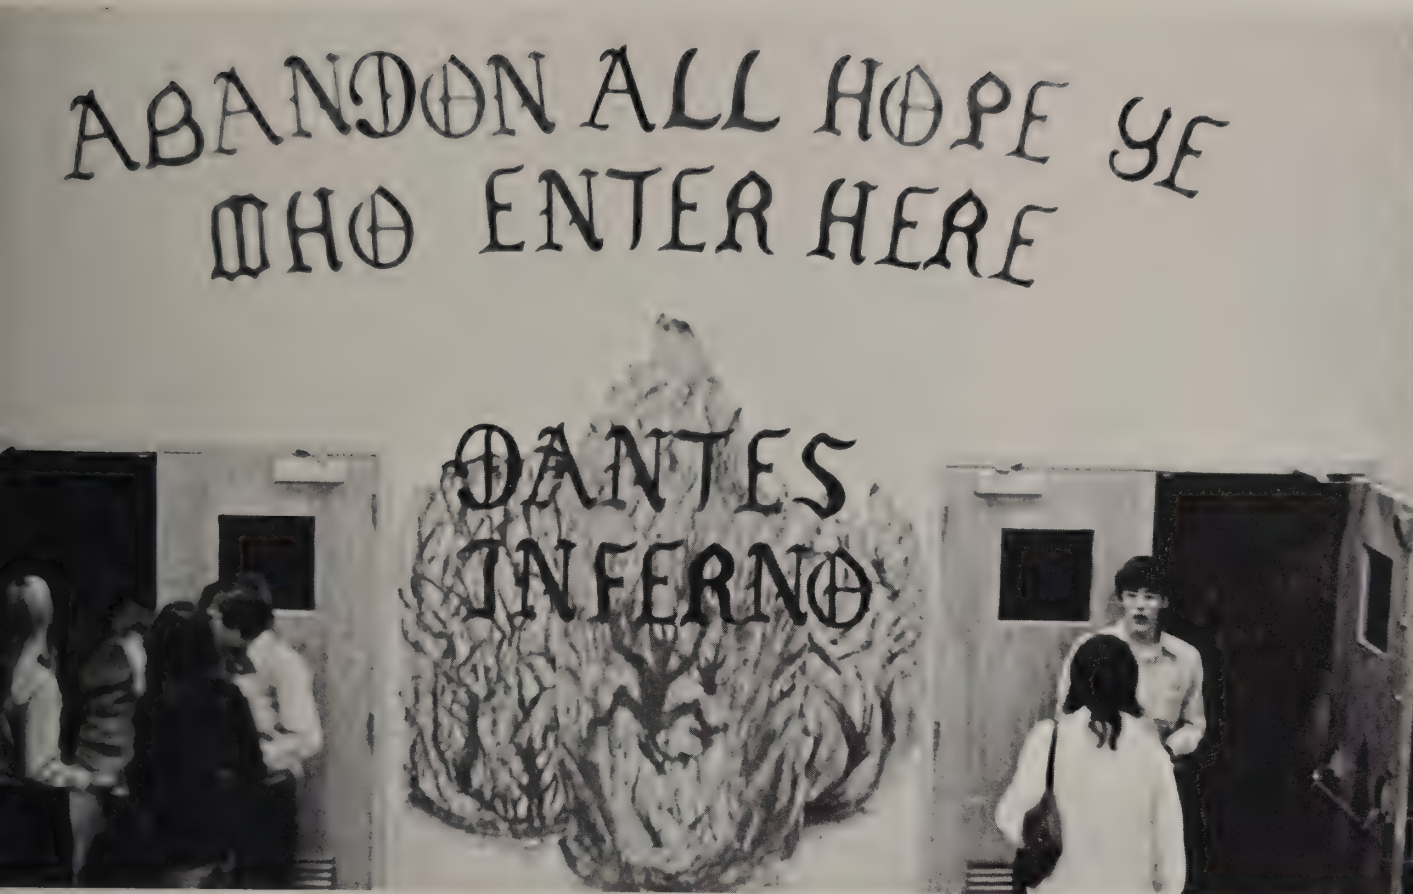

At one end of the gym, a fiery Satan presided over all who attended. The Juniors' originality did not stop with the decorations, however.

They also introduced a new band to LHS — the Muskrat Lake.

Music and laughter rocked the gym and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Seniors "Teach the World to Sing"

When the Class of 1972 looks back on their Senior Show they will have many things to remember it by: the endless rehearsals; the student co-chairmen, Diane Neill and Steve Fioravanti; the absence of a snow sculpture due to lack of snow; then, the postponement of the second performance of the show due to a major blizzard; and the invaluable help and advice of Mr. Gregory Wrinn, Music Director, Mr. James Martin, Stage Director, and Mr. Joseph Andreis, the Senior Show co-ordinator. "We'd Like to Teach the World to Sing" was the theme of the show. It was presented on the nights of February 18th and 20th. John Nowak, Odette nunes, Tom Abdow, and Terry Haney served as M.C.'s and introduced the audience to the "Fabulous Forties", the "Frantic Fifties", the "Swinging Sixties", and the "Sensational Seventies". The show brought the members of the class closer together than they had ever been, and the enthusiasm and determined efforts produced a very unique show.

Hi-Y Sponsors Games of the Year

When the Hi-Y Organization sponsored its annual basketball night on March 10th, the crowd was in for an added treat. The Junior and Senior classes competed in a series of volleyball games for a trophy which the Seniors ended up winning. The traditional basketball game between the junior high and senior high teachers was also played, as well as one between the Hi-Y members and the varsity cheerleaders. The event was termed a success by all who attended, and the proceeds of the night were donated to Sunshine Village by Walt Ricardi, president of Hi-Y.

Imagine you and hundreds of others crowding into the LHS cafeteria and dancing away to the music of the War Horse. This is exactly what the freshmen did on the evening of April 7th. Previously postponed because of a snowstorm, the rescheduled dance turned out well from all aspects. Let's hope the freshmen carry their enthusiasm and class spirit through their remaining high school years.

Rock Concert Aids G.O. Fund

Ludlow's second rock concert of the year took place on the first of May and featured Holidaye, a ten-piece instrumental group that had previously ended an engagement in Las Vegas. Despite the sweltering heat in the auditorium the audience remained enthusiastic as they danced to the sounds of the band. Among the many popular songs performed by Holidaye were their selections from the rock opera Jesus Christ Superstar, which were received enthusiastically by the crowd.

Carol Cyranowski

On May 5, the talented seamstresses in Mrs. Patullo's sewing classes displayed the results of their hard work and sewing abilities in the annual fashion show, "Sail Into Spring". The girls' talents were obvious as they modeled dresses, slacks and hotpants outfits, as well as a gown and a cape. Out of all the deserving girls, choosing one for the award which is annually given to the senior who has consistently shown superior ability in sewing was a hard decision. The winner was Carol Cyranowski, who was honored for her outstanding talent and enthusiasm.

Wind Song . . .

The Class of 1973 broke from tradition when they became the first class to hold their Junior Prom outside of the school. The prom, which was held at the Highpoint Motor Inn on May 26, was entitled "Wind Song" and was under the general direction of chairman Tom Methot. The climax of the evening came at the choosing of a queen. Out of five beautiful semifinalists, Sherril Koch was chosen to be Queen of the Prom. The prom was a huge success and will certainly be remembered for a long time to come.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council Initiates Legislation

The Ludlow High School Student Council, under President Sarmiento Silva, Vice President Joanne Pereira, Secretary Kathy Amos, Treasurer Denise Wallace, and Advisor Mr. Leonard Charest instituted many new changes in the school. Several controversial bills were proposed and passed, including one that abolished Student Patrol and another that made it mandatory for every club and organization in the school to have a constitution. Also, in conjunction with the Student Council, a Student-Faculty Liason Committee was established to promote the exchange of ideas and the airing of grievances between the students and the administration.

The Ludlow High School Delegation to the annual Model Congress held at AIC presented a bill to provide for the rehabilitation of drunken drivers.

The Student Council members who participated in this three-day event got a valuable insight in the running of our government.

Red Cross Serves Community

The Ludlow High School Red Cross Organization carries out activities of service to others, both in cooperation with the Springfield Inter-High Council and in Ludlow. Besides the annual fund drive for the benefit of the American Red Cross, the club has also made itself useful in other ways. This year the Red Cross members decorated the Holyoke Old Soldiers Home at Thanksgiving as well as the Westover Base Hospital at Christmas. The Red Cross members are to be commended for the many fine services which they provide for the community.

Library Aides

The Library Aides consist of students interested in working in the Ludlow High School library and learning related library skills. They do the small but necessary jobs that keep the library running efficiently, such as keeping the books on the shelves in order and in good condition, stamping books to be taken out, and doing the clerical work.

The Library Aides also spent a day at the Mount Holyoke Library and visited the library at the University of Massachusetts.

The members of the Modern Foreign Language Club are those students studying either French or Spanish and any other interested students that wish to join.

Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for students to learn and enjoy the culture and civilization of the modern foreign languages. Among other activities, the club members participated in a trip to New Haven, Connecticut with the Junior Classical League to see the play Caligula.

Hi-News Has New Format

The Hi-News was established to give the students of Ludlow High School the opportunity to express themselves and to keep informed on school activities. Although plagued by a lack of funds, the Hi-News staff managed to turn out two innovative newspapers. This new newspaper format was appropriately entitled "Do It." Led by advisor, Mr. Jerome Linehan, the editors, Angela Mariani, Carol Knapp, Carey Carneiro, Tom Abdow, Charlie Goodreau, Richard Gondek, Jim Duffy, Larry Willette, Sue Sanford, Don Nardi, and Carl Dziura, put "Do It" to press.

Pro Merito Continues Role of "Dead" Club

Pro Merito, Ludlow's chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools, is a prestigious club in which membership is based upon outstanding scholarship. Although the number of members increases every year, this club is sadly acknowledged as the school's most inactive. The organization has been virtually without an advisor for the past two years, which makes it impossible for the club to carry on any activities whatsoever. It is not only an insult to those students who strive the hardest and put the most into their schoolwork, but also a disgrace to the school that they should think so little of their honor students. Let's hope that in the years to come Pro Merito ceases being a "dead" club and once again becomes worthy of its deserving members.

Hi-Y Has Active Year

The Hi-Y organization is noted as being one of the more active clubs in Ludlow High School. Beginning with their highly imaginative and hilarious initiations, the Hi-Y members continued to be involved in many activities. Besides distributing Thanksgiving food baskets to needy Ludlow families, Hi-Y put on their annual variety show and sponsored the Hi-Y Basketball Night. Although there were attempts to get girls into Hi-Y, the organization continued to remain all male.

Yearbook Staff Overcomes Obstacles

The 1972 LION staff worked under most unfavorable conditions during the past year.

Confronted with the double sessions and the construction problems, the staff had no available space in school in which materials could be stored and work could be done.

Undaunted, the staff, led by Editor-in-Chief Tony Gomes, Associate Editor
Odette Nunes, and Advisor Mr. Charles Bradshaw, set out to create a yearbook that the students would enjoy and a book that would again bring credit to Ludlow High School.

The sectional editors, Carol Knapp, Seniors; Debbie Dobryzycki, Underclassmen; Richard Gondek, Faculty;
Carey Carneiro and Debbie Sasur,
Activities and Events; Barbara Czub,
Fine Arts; Donna Anischik,
Sports; Don Nardi, Photography;
Karen Brut and Susan Krol, Business, saw to it that the 1972 LION captured all of the elements that make up Ludlow High School.

This book belongs to you;
it is a memoir of those marvelous days at LHS.

We hope you like it.

Advisor, Mr. Charles Bradshaw

The Road to the Western Mass. Crown

The 1971 soccer season was one of joy and triumph. Ludlow once again, after a three year absence, reigned supreme in Western Mass. with a 17-1-1 record.

The high point of the regular season occurred on Sept. 28 with the Lions facing Chicopee at Brooks Field. It began during a pep assembly seventh period of the same day with shouts of "We're #1" echoing from the walls. The Lions proved they were #1 by convincingly beating arch-rival Chicopee, 3-0. The scoring heroics of Fred Pereira and Allie Goncalves, combined with the flawless defense by the backs and goalie Julio DaSilva, proved to all present that our Ludlow team was truly the team to beat. As the game ended, players and fans alike screamed the praises of the mighty Lions.

We were #1!

The vigorous pace of the season continued, marred only by a tie with Northhampton, and Ludlow entered the tourney top seeded. The highly powered team swept by Westboro, Pittsfield, and Chicopee Comp to face Chicopee in the Western Mass. finals. Excitement was at its peak as the Lions held the much-improved Pacer team to a stand-off for three full periods. But John Amaral's goal with seven minutes remaining gave Ludlow a much earned victory — and the Western Mass. crown.

ABOVE: It seems as if the referee is the only one around as Fred Pereira scores one of five goals against Chicopee Comp in the Western Mass. semi-finals.

ABOVE: Julio DaSilva hangs from the goal in an attempt to reach the ball. DIRECTLY ABOVE: The goal can be a lonely place when you play for such a highly offensive team as Ludlow, Julio DaSilva discovered against Pittsfield.

The season ended on Nov. 15 with the soon-to-be New England champs New Bedford defeating Ludlow in the final minutes of play in the Mass. finals, 2-1. The Lions were hurt in the opening period with the loss of senior fullback Tony Gomes with a broken leg. On the plus side, Fred Pereira scored his fiftieth goal of the season; this now stands as the record for the most goals in a season by any Western Mass. soccer player.

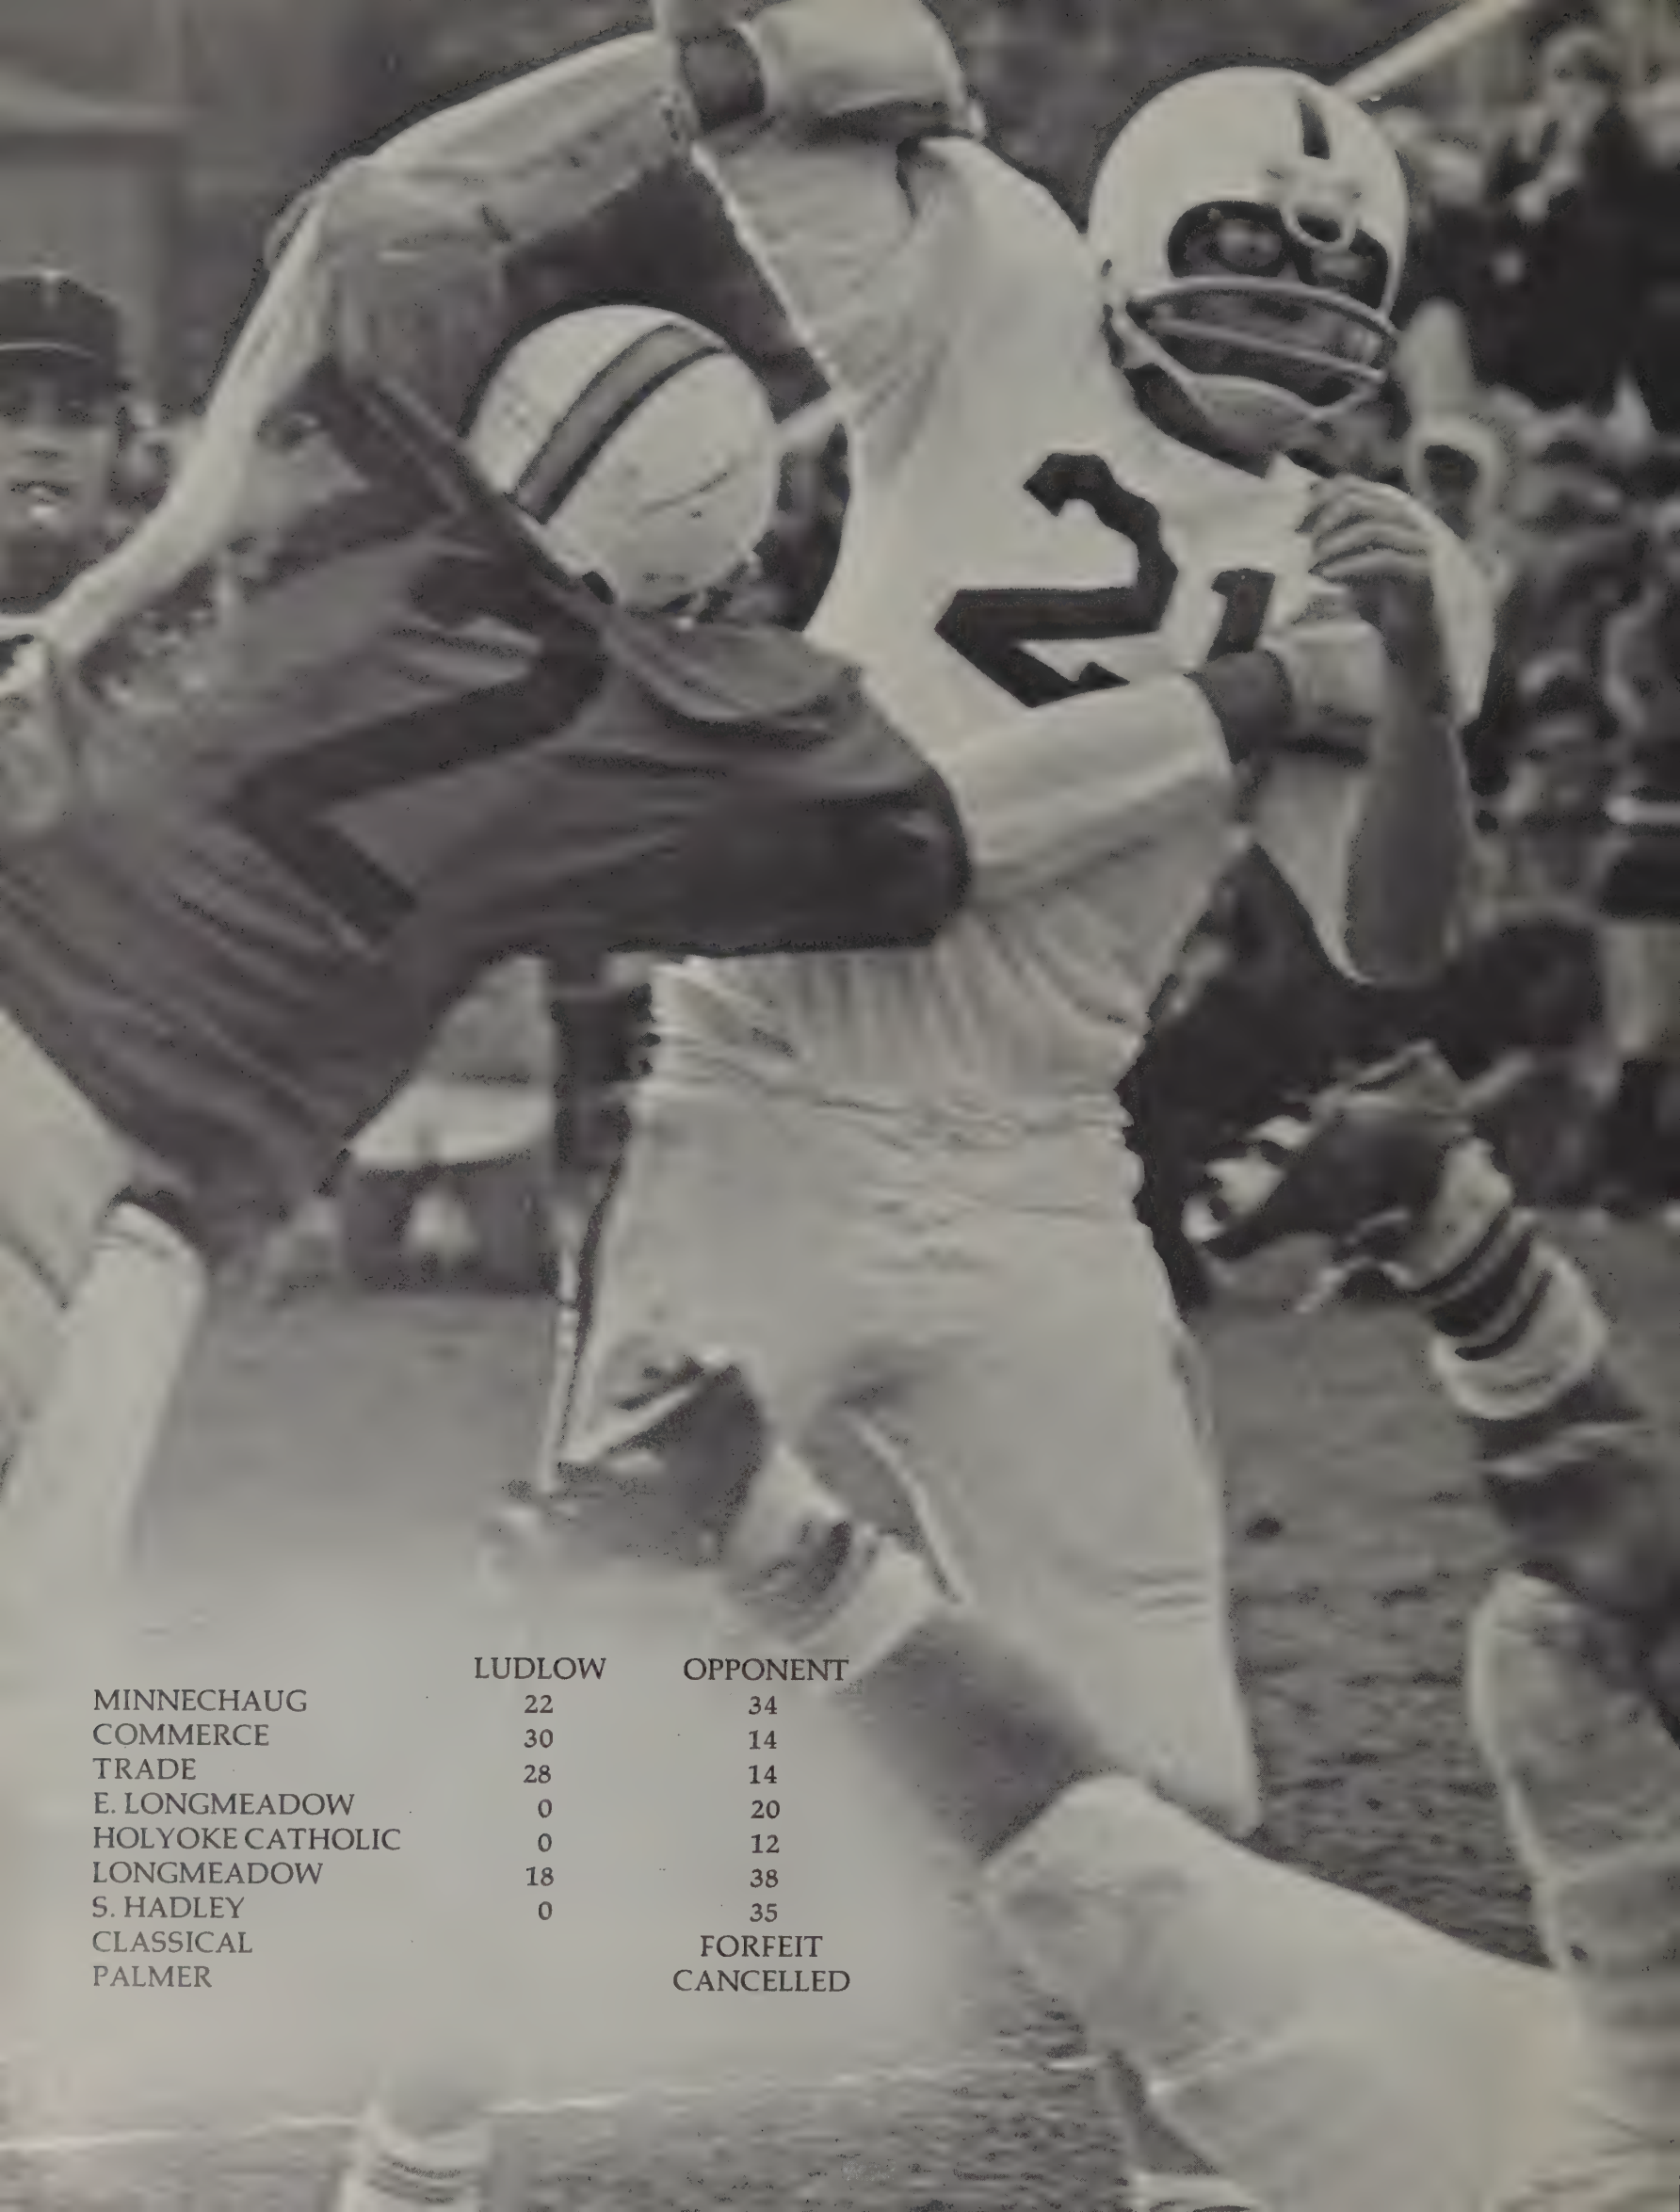

Although the soccer team worked as a unit, there were many individual standouts. Fred Pereira attained All-Western Mass. and All-League status along with senior Dan Ouellette and junior Allie Concalves. Fred was also named to the New England All-America team. Tony Gomes and Julio DaSilva were picked to the All-League squad with Gary Rodrigues receiving an Honorable Mention. Yes, 1971 was a good year for soccer in Ludlow. We were # 1!

The Only Bright Spots Shone Through Individuals

To paraphrase the words of interim head coach Dave Dziura, the 1971 football season was frustration, tragedy, and more frustration.

It started with the Lions coming from a 28 point deficit and scoring 22 points in a losing effort to Suburban League co-champ Minnechaug. Led by the running of Wally Ricardi and the quarterbacking of Ray Williamson, the Lions recovered from the loss and defeated Commerce and Trade.

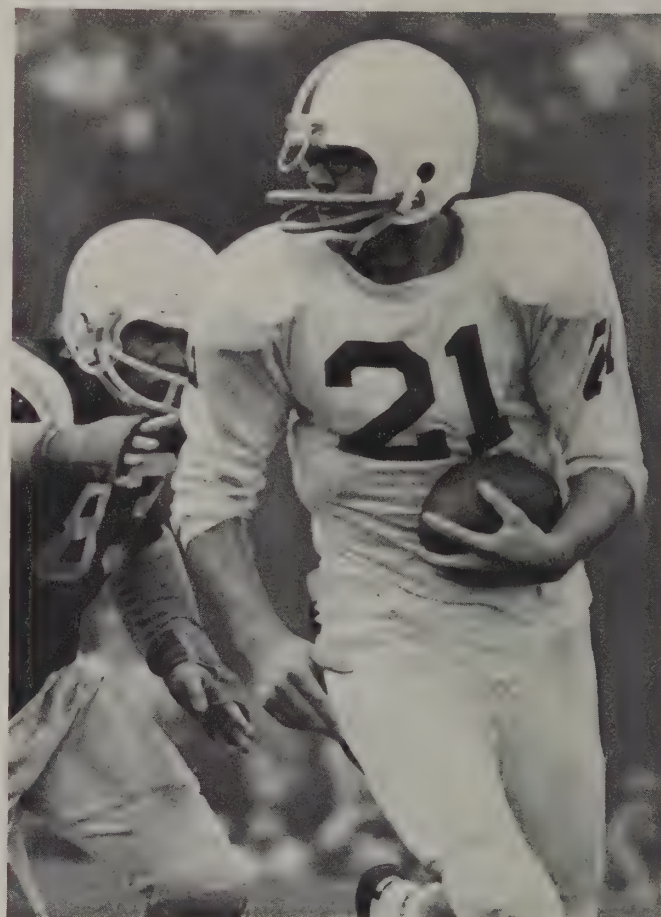

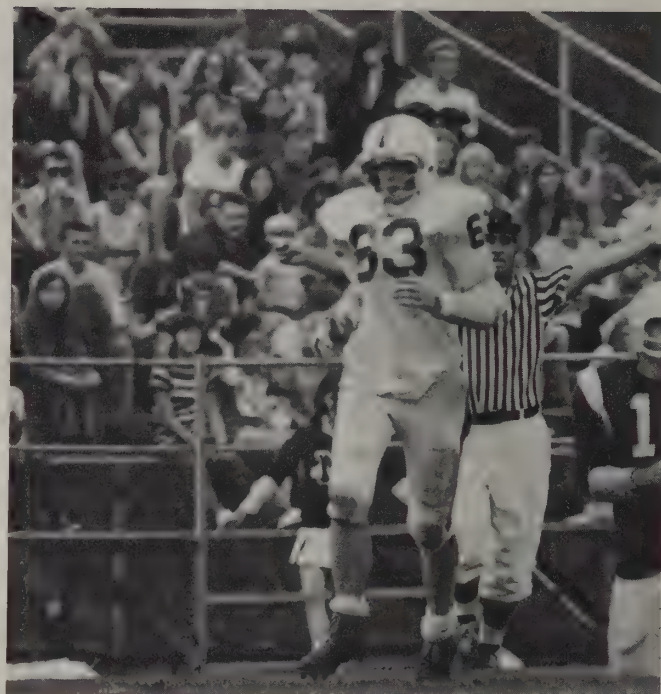

Yet these wins were not decisive enough against these usually weak opponents. The desire to win big surrounded the Lions as they entered a home game with East Longmeadow. Having displayed one of the top offenses in the league until then, Ludlow met with frustration, and its first of three season shutouts, losing 20-0.

Saturdays didn't get any better as the Lions dropped contests to Holyoke Catholic and Longmeadow. Sticky defense and good ball control kept Ludlow in the game against rival South Hadley for three quarters, but four Tiger touchdowns in the final period crused all hopes of a win.

What occurred following this will not soon be forgotten; an unbelievable tragedy layed a heavy toll upon all of Ludlow High School. Two days before the game with Classical, head coach Chick Patullo was found dead on the floor of the school gymnasium. The initial shock has passed, yet his words, his philosophy of life, will be recalled by everyone who was fortunate enough to come in contact with him.

Finishing the season was a must. The Lions had to win their final contest for "Chick".

Practices came alive. "Sleeper" ballplayers came up with tremendous plays. The guys were really "up" for the Thanksgiving Day clash with Palmer, but frustration erased their hopes.

ABOVE: All-Suburban League right guard John Nowak trots back to the huddle after a big play. DIRECTLY ABOVE: Ray Williamson was named as the Most Valuable Player for not only his quarterbacking, but also his running, abilities.

Snow fell to cancel the game. The season ended quietly without a win but rather with an empty feeling inside.

The only bright spots shone through individuals. Ray Williamson was selected Most Valuable Player — now in the name of Coach Patullo — for his second Varsity year, while John Nowak attained All-Suburban League status at right guard.

To sum up the season as a whole, one would combine the words tragedy and frustration with hope — hope that future teams at Ludlow High School will not only fair better in winning percentage, but somehow perpetuate those morals and ideals that its favorite son, Chick Patullo, represented.

Harriers Showed Promise

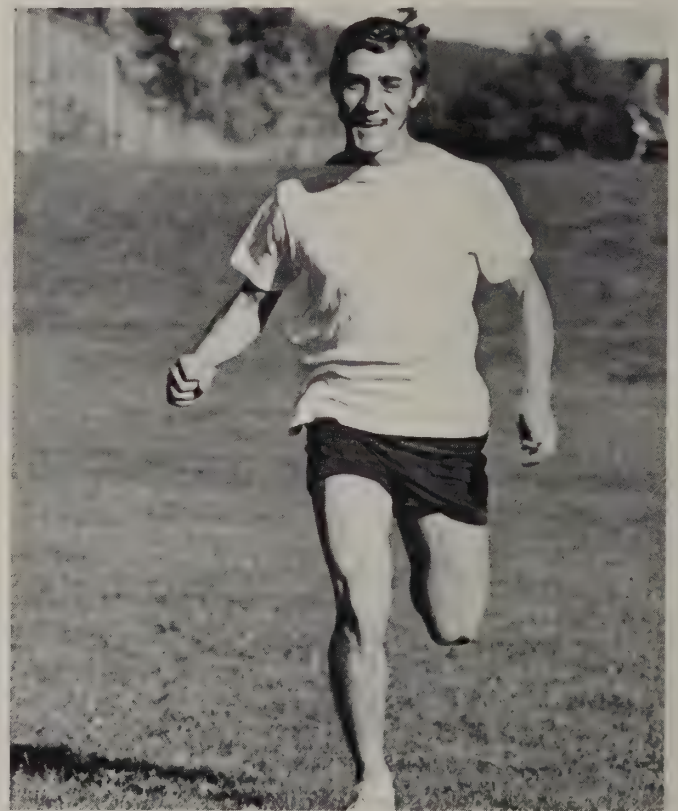

Cross-country 1971 started out great for the Lions, who won four out of their first five meets, beating Monson, Westfield, West Springfield, and Agawam. Disaster then struck as the harriers dropped their next ten meets, including a poor showing at the Western Mass. championships. There was a bright spot, though, as the Junior Varsity finished sixth in Western Mass. competition. The future of cross-country would have looked bright, if the sport had not been dropped by the Ludlow High School sports department, after only two years as a varsity sport.

They Played Well Against the Average Teams

Hockey 1972 — what can one say about a team that had a very mediocre season? That the talent was there? That the team worked together but could rarely put it together?

The season began with high hopes as the hockey team took up where the soccer team left off and defeated Chicopee, 3-2. Hopes dimmed, though, as the Lions were crushed by the team expected to win it all, Classical, by the score of 7-1. The next big game occurred on Jan. 5 against another contender, West Springfield. The Lions built up a 4-0 lead, but the lead quickly disappeared, and the final score was West Side 6, Ludlow 5.

This game set the pace of the entire season.

Ludlow looked great against the average teams but was outclassed by the good teams.

In fact, the Lions managed to win only 3 out of 10 games against teams that eventually made the play-offs, two of those wins coming over arch-rival Chicopee.

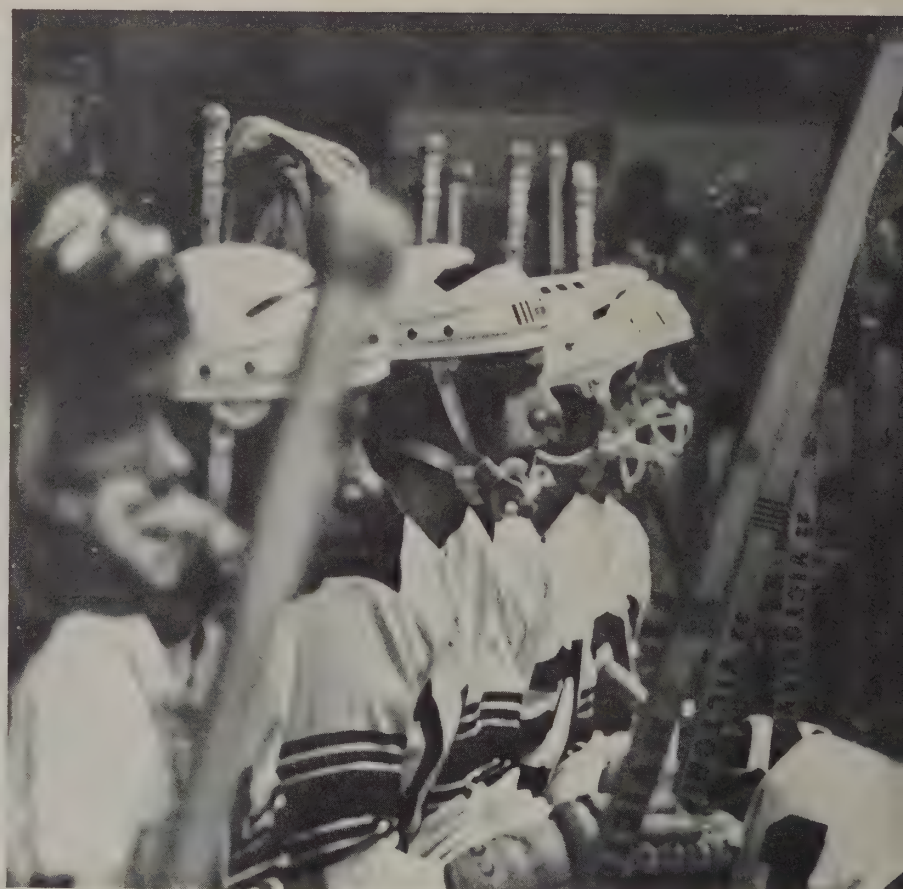

It may be better to talk about the individuals.

Defenseman Bob "Click" Howe, the team leader, was chosen as the Western Mass. hockey player exemplifying both sportsmanship and superior ability. He was also named to the All-League and All-Western. Mass. teams. Goalie Bob McChesney made many seemingly impossible saves in the nets. Many of the goals scored against him were on break-aways. Other standouts were forwards Al Czerniak, Scott McChesney, and Jeff Cristina and defensemen Ed Prokop and Ed Luszc.

The Junior Varsity Hockey team finished with a 4-9-1 record, but it should be remembered that there were six sophomores on the Varsity team.

This could account for the mediocre showing of the J.V. team; it should also be responsible for a much improved Varsity team next year. Coach Malek hopes so.

It Was a Wonderful, Victorious Season

For the first time since the class of 1972 entered high school, the Ludlow basketball team had a winning season. They played exciting, hard-fought games. The Connerymen won their first five games and were tied for first place with Longmeadow and Agawam, when Longmeadow came to town. The Lions played to their first defeat of the season against the soon-to-be Valley Wheel champ Lancers.

Our Lions came back in the next game against Agawam in a come-from-behind win in overtime. As the buzzer sounded ending the game, fans streamed onto the floor to congratulate the jubilant Ludlow team. Shouts of "We're #1!" showed that, even though they weren't, we had confidence in our team. The Lions continued on their winning ways with only a few scattered losses, and they again faced the league-leading Lancers in a revenge match. Mike Morcavage led the charge with an astonishing 37 points, as the Connerymen overcame Longmeadow in an upset victory.

Meanwhile, the Junior Varsity played steady ball in compiling a 7-10 record and showed that the 1973 team should be real contenders. The Varsity finished high enough in the standings to be invited to the Division II Western Mass. Tourney, where they were outplayed by Hoosac Valley, 63-38. The loss ended the season for the Lions, but it was a wonderful, victorious season. Mike Morcavage and Ray Williamson were both picked to the All-Valley Wheel team, filling two of five possible positions. We taught them that Ludlow was once again a team to be reckoned with.

Girl's Basketball Has New Coach

The Seals began the 1972 season with a clean slate and a new coach. Miss Judy Mattola did a tremendous job as she encouraged and coached the Seals in their encounters with the opposition. Co-captains were Paula Haluch and Sue Chenaille. Sue was, without a doubt, the most valuable player on the team. Throughout the season, Sue continued to control the ball, and most of her shots found the desired target.

Although the Seals did not end their season with a winning record, most of the team will be on the court next year. The team was made up of two Seniors, four Juniors, and five Sophomores.

Throughout the season, loyal fans supported the team and will be awaiting their return next year.

The Ludlow High School baseball team again supplied baseball fans with an action-packed season. This being the last season for Coach William Mullins, the team wanted it to be a winning season. However, they had one big problem facing them: the lack of experience due to only four returning players.

The season began with an opening loss to Classical, 2-1, which was followed by a decisive 11-5 victory over Westfield. From here, everything looked upwards for the team. Then disaster struck; there were a number of one run losses because of the tough Valley Wheel League competition. With these losses, frustration set in, and they began to lose their momentum. From here the chances of a title were hopeless, and the team could only try to salvage their record. While doing this, the baseball team managed to pull off what were probably the two biggest upsets in the league by downing Longmeadow, 5-2, and Agawam, 3-2. They ended the Valley Wheel season with a 4-9 record and an overall mark of 6-12.

Girls' Softball Suffers Setback

The spring of 1972 was destined to be a monumental one for the girls' softball enthusiasts of L.H.S. With the promise of real uniforms, unlike the hot black sweatshirts of the previous year, and equipment which was actually usable, hopes were soaring among the girls. At last they were a team, with league games scheduled against other towns, and varsity status practically a reality. Organizational meetings were held with many times the number of girls needed attending. With such great interest and zeal, it was unlikely that the team could go wrong the search for a coach appeared a trivial step, for many had spoken of interest in the job. It only seemed a matter of time before the name would be announced. The first day of practice was eagerly awaited.

Suddenly, one afternoon, disaster struck. A meeting was called, which the girls assumed was for the introduction of their new coach. Instead, they were greeted by a grim face and the words, "As I see it now, there will be no girl's softball team this year." Due to certain rulings and inadequate funding, the athletic department had been unable to secure a coach for the team. In disbelief, the girls thought of their first game, which was scheduled for the following week. That game would never be played, and neither would the others. With great disappointment, they faced the cruel reality of the facts: there would not be a 1972 girl's softball team at L.H.S.

However, these girls will not give up. They are determined to have a team next year, and, after this year's setback, they will not let the chance pass them by again. Their only regret is for the departing seniors, for they will not get a second try.

In March, it was debatable whether Ludlow would be represented in the 1972 season by a track team. With support from students and members of the Ludlow School Committee, the school would have a team. The biggest problem the team faced was the necessity of practicing on the soccer field instead of a regular track field. Too, Coach Szlosek had to run the team himself because of the dismissal of Coach Trahan.

The team (0-9), lead by tri-captains Glenn Lowery (880) yard run), Tom Dusel (1 mile run), and John Nowak (javelin), never quite gained enough momentum. Also, they were in a tough Valley Wheel League.

With the absence next year of double sessions, the large sophomore turnout this year, plus the running and fielding events of juniors Joe Barbieri and Kevin Air, we can look forward to a very good team with a record to match.

Other seniors pulling the team were John Tourtellotte (880 yard run), Casimir Wonsowicz (2 mile run), John Rodrigues (discus), Glenn Potter (discus), and Alan Young (2 mile run).

Although the 1972 Ludlow High School golf team didn't do well in terms of wins and losses, the closeness of the scores and the competitive spirit of each player still made the season a most successful one.

The team had a record of four wins and eleven losses, but there was rarely a match where Ludlow didn't come close to winning. The frustrations of this kind of season didn't impede the desire of the players to continue challenging each school throughout the schedule.

The weather proved to be a burdensome factor in the month of May. Most of the matches were played either in the rain or with the ground so wet that normal play was impossible.

Senior Tim Kurty played # 1 on the Ludlow team, and although he competed against the best from each school, he was rarely out of contention. Significant individual achievements during the season included Tim Kurty's low round of 71 at the St. Anne's Golf Course, Ray Parylak's 74 at the Quaboag Country Club, and Bob McChesney's nine hole score of 41 at the Springfield Country Club played in a heavy rain. Tim Kurty had the lowest average score for the season with a 78.4.

In the Western Mass. Individual Golf Tournament held at the Waconah Country Club, Ludlow was represented by Tim Kurty, Bob McChesney, Bill Pawlin and Ray Parylak. No one qualified for the State Event, but Bill Pawlin was Ludlow's medalist with an 88.

With such a large number of seniors on this year's team, next season many new faces will be representing Ludlow on the golf circuit.

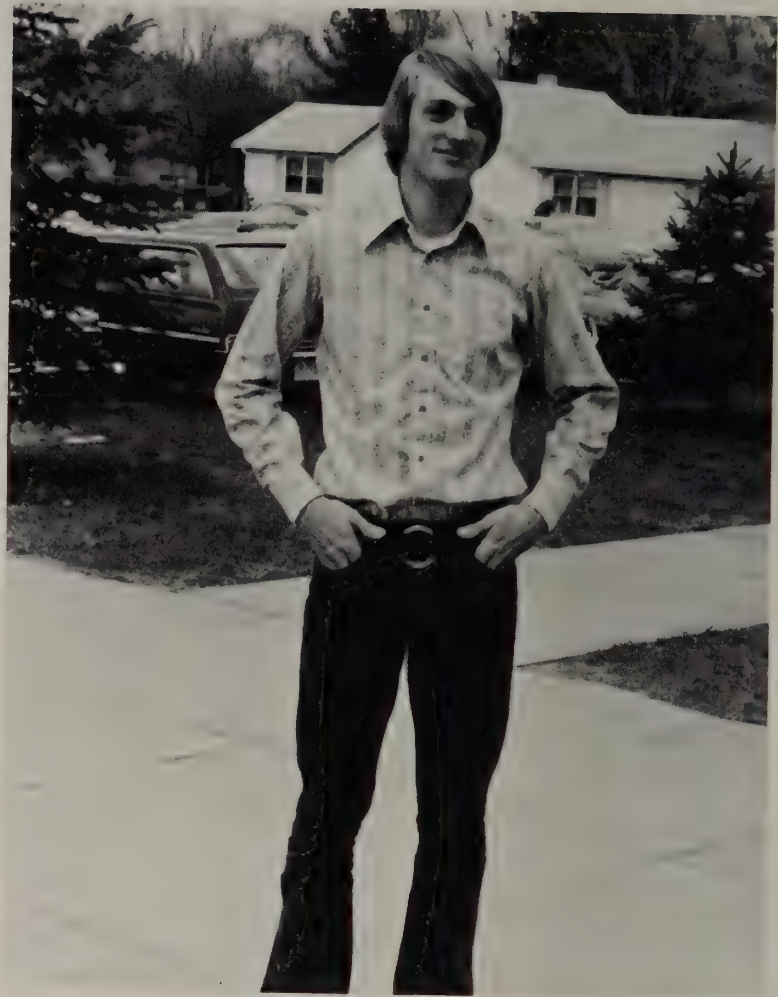

Dedicated to the Ones We Love

Of course, all of the athletes in the previous thirty-two pages are to be commended for the practice and dedication required for them to play their particular sport. Too, many of the athletes played more than one sport, and some even played three. But the following two pages are reserved for the athletes that were just a little bit better than their teammates and received official recognition of this fact. These athletes should be the recipients of our highest praises. This, then, is dedicated to the ones we love.

John Nowak

John Nowak was chosen to the All-League football team at right guard. Ray Williamson and Mike Morcavage were both named to the All-League basketball team. Ray was also the recipient of the Chick Patullo Memorial Award as the MVP of the football team. Click Howe was the best all-around hockey player in Western Mass. Click was named to the All-League and All-Western Mass. hockey teams; he was the only defenseman on the top ten in scoring; he won the Tony Costa Award as the MVP of the Ludlow team; he received an award and a $200 scholarship from the Springfield Kings Booster Club; he was the winner of the Western Mass. Official's Award for the player exemplifying both sportsmanship and ability; probably the greatest honor, Click received the Amo "Betts" Bessone Award as the Most Valuable Player in Western Mass., and all of this on a sixth place club.

With the outstanding season of the soccer team (winning the Western Mass. championship), it seems only right that the soccer players would receive the most awards. Gary Rodrigues was named as an Honorable Mention to the All-League team. Tony Gomes and Julio Da Silva were chosen to the All-League Second Team. Dan Ouellette and Allie Goncalves "booted" their way onto the All-League and All-Western Mass. teams, Dan as a defenseman and Allie as a forward. Once again, as was the case in hockey, Ludlow was fortunate enough to have the best soccer player in Western Mass. on their team, Fred Pereira. Fred was named as the MVP of the soccer team; he received the George E. Russell sportsmanship award; he was picked to the All-League, All-Western Mass., and, as befits his ability, New England branch of the All-America teams. Beside winning awards, Fred also specializes in breaking records: he now holds the record for the most goals in one season (50) and the most goals in a career (83) by any Western Mass. soccer player. Do you still wonder why the soccer team was the Western Mass. Champs?

Athletes Climb to the Top

"Would the following people please report to the gym lobby for yearbook pictures . . ." all sounds normal, maybe even boring, until one calls down the L.H.S. sports stars. Then beware!

Everything was progressing nicely on May 11, 1972. Photographer Don Nardi was busy snapping pictures of Ray Williamson and Mike Morcavage hanging from the flag pole, Click Howe "just standing around", and Fred Pereira twirling his soccer ball.

Pictures took all of ten minutes, but being conscientious sports nuts, the boys decided to borrow Fred's soccer ball and start up a little game of soccer on the front lawn.

Click Howe received a pass from Fred Pereira and quickly passed it on to Dan Ouellette. Danny O., using all his soccer prowess, kicked it between the two shrubs . . . SCORE!!! Good, Danny, Good!!!

Dan's team was now ahead 1-0. . . The tension began to mount. Paul Minie to Allie Goncalves to Bob McChesney to Ray Williamson. Ray gets set, kicks, and SCORES!!!

But Ray is no soccer player. He doesn't believe in those one point scores, so it isn't unbelievable that when all the cheering was over, it was discovered that the soccer goal turned out to be a field goal. Now Fred's ball was on top of the L.H.S. roof!

"Well Fred, it's your ball."

"Yea, but you kicked it up there."

"How are we gonna get it down?"

"We have to climb up and get it."

"Sure you are!"

"How are we gonna get up there?"

"How about climbing through a window on the third floor?"

"Who can fit through those windows?"

"The BUSH — Bruce Savitt!"

"O.K. Let's go."

The gang proceeded to the third floor. John Nowak, using all his charm and persuasiveness, got the crew into a classroom and Bruce out of the window. Four boys lowered Bruce feet first through the window onto the roof. Gazing across the roof he spotted the ball and ran over to it. "Watch it Bruce, you might blow away!" As he climbed back through the window, he was met by much cheering and applause. With a look of relief, Fred accepted the ball. The story ends.

Despite all the lectures and tests, all the trials and tribulations, incidents like this will always remain in our memories — memories that will make us regret that it is all behind.

Q: What's this here coming Down the hall?

A: Some fellows searching for a ball.
(A soccer ball, that is!)

They stuck "Bush" through a window,
(A deed he did with dread)
By squishing out his body,
And squashing out his head.

But once outside, the Bush he laughed
 "Simple", he said to all,

And up he climbed the ladder rungs,
 To retrieve the soccer ball.

Old Monk said, "No! You're not to go!"
 Yet didn't stop not one.
 For we returned the soccer ball,
 Believe me, it was fun.

We may forget those famous days,
 We may remember none.
 But still we'll say,
 When "Bushes" are grey,
 "Ludlow was # 1!"
